Response to Amendment

This is in response to an amendment file on February 12th, 2004 for letter for patent filed on September 17th, 2003 in which claims 1-50 were presented for examination. In the amendment, claims 14-16, 30-32 and 46-48 have been canceled. Claims 1-13, 17-29, 33-45, 49 and 50 remain pending in the letter.

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-13, 17-29, 33-45, 49 and 50 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1-13, 17-29, 33-45, 49 and 50 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Bush et al (U.S. Patent No. 5,263,162).

Re claim 1: Bush et al discloses a method for generating identification data (deriving CGPIN), comprising providing (read) an ATM PIN (pin code) related to a first transaction type; and performing a cryptographic operation (perform encryption) upon an ATM PIN (PIN code) thereby generating (derive) a non ATM PIN (CGPIN) for use in a second transaction which is a non ATM transaction (comparing and matches) (see abstract, 5-7, column 3 lines 16-45, 4 lines 42-5 line 15).

Re claim 2: Bush et al further discloses that the step of performing a cryptographic operation comprises providing a conversion key (pseudo-random number) and using the conversion key to perform said cryptographic operation upon an ATM PIN (see column 2 lines 21-42).

Re claim 3: Bush et al further discloses that the step of providing a conversion key comprises: providing conversion key derivation data (i.e., PAN) providing a conversion key derivation key and performing the cryptographic operation upon the conversion key derivation data and the conversion key derivation key (see column 2 lines 21-42).

Re claim 4: Bush et al further discloses that the step of performing a cryptographic operation upon the conversion key derivation data and the conversion key derivation key comprises using the conversion key derivation key to perform at least one cryptographic operation upon the conversion key derivation data (see column 2 lines 21-42).

Re claim 5: Bush et al further discloses that the conversion key derivation data includes an identification number that is associated with multiple accounts, and wherein at least one cryptographic operation using a secret key is performed to cryptographically process said conversion key derivation data to produce the conversion key (see column 2 lines 21-42).

Re claim 6: Konheim further discloses that the step of performing a cryptographic operation comprises: providing cryptographically-computed data and performing an operation upon an ATM PIN and the cryptographically-computed data (see abstract, 5-7, column 3 lines 16-45, 4 lines 42-5 line 15).

Re claim 7: Konheim further discloses that the step of providing cryptographically-computed data comprises: providing initial data and performing at least one cryptographic operation using a secret key upon the initial data thereby producing the cryptographically-computed data (see column 2 lines 21-42).

Re claim 8: Konheim disclose that the at least one cryptographic operation using a secret key comprises at least one of a DES-encryption and a DES-decryption (see abstract, 5-7, column 3 lines 16-45, 4 lines 42-5 line 15).

Re claim 9: Konheim further discloses that least a portion of the initial data is obtained from at least a portion of an account number (see column 2 lines 21-42)

Re claims 10 and 13: Konheim does not explicitly disclose that the operation upon an ATM PIN and the cryptographically-computed data comprises either a subtraction operation or an addition operation (see abstract, 5-7, column 3 lines 16-45, 4 lines 42-5 line 15)

Re claim 11 and 12: Konheim further discloses that the step of providing cryptographicallycomputed data further comprises generating a cryptographically-computed number having a base corresponding to a base of a number representing the first set of identification data, wherein said cryptographically-computed number has a number of digits corresponding to a number of digits of said number representing an ATM PIN (see column 2 lines 21-42).

Re claims 17-29, 33-45, 49 and 50: The claimed system would have been inherent to perform the method disclosed by Bush et al as stated above. Therefore, they are rejected under the same rationale.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. (see form 892).
